Newsman Willing To Be Prisoner

Reuters

GENEVA, Switzerland, Jan. 6—Belgian-born journalist Jacques Marcuse is scheduled to fly to Hong Kong Tuesday to offer himself to Chinese authorities in exchange for Anthony Grey, Reuters correspondent held under house arrest in Peking since July, 1967, his wife said here today.

Marcuse, a veteran China correspondent, wrote Chinese Premier Chou En Lai last month offering himself in exchange for Grey. In the letter, Marcuse, who spent 15 years in China and who met Chou several times, said he would offer himself to the Chinese authorities at the China-Kowloon border in Hong Kong.
